LANL monitoring the situation unfolding in Paris, France

The Laboratory is monitoring the situation unfolding in Paris, France. Security officials are engaged with the Department of Energy (DOE) as well as federal and local law enforcement. There are no known imminent threats to DOE sites or personnel. For LANL employees traveling in France, contact your manager or the Emergency Operations Center 24-hour phone number at (505) 667-6211 for accountability purposes. In addition, the EOC is prepared to take calls for additional assistance and information. Please stay posted on local events and security precautions and follow the instructions of local police and security officials.

If you were traveling to France and diverted to another location, you are advised to notify the EOC or your immediate supervisor of your current location and make necessary arrangements for return travel to your home station. If you have plans to travel to Europe in the near future, monitor the Department of State website, www.travel.state.gov, for advisories and warnings as well as your immediate supervisor.
